handled all of his chances cleanly and secured three good hits. Bielaski at short accepted seven chances without an error and also had three hits to his credit. Van Vliet, Weber and Bradley all did good work. The outfield had little to do but did that well.

The fielding of the opposing team was more or less ragged. Donald at second base was the bright spot and drew applause on several occasions. In batting, as the score shows they were not in it.

Hopkins went to the bat first and started off in winning fashion. Brown was hit by Hutchinson, Lyon sacrificed and Donald put a single to left field scoring Brown. On the throw in he took second and scored on an out by Iglehart.

In their turn at bat the Buff and Blue proceeded to turn the tables. Two bases on balls, an error by Lyon, and hits by Bielaski and Asquith resulted in four runs.

In the seventh on an error by Hutchinson, an out and a single by Donald, the Baltimoreans secured their only other run of the game.

George Washington got one more in the third on an error and two singles. In the fourth Hutchinson got his base on balls, Price bunted, reaching first safely, and Stevenson got his base on Waring's error. Bielaski then singled and three runs came in. In the fifth half a dozen hits coupled with an error netted five more tallies and Waring was sent to the bench, McIntire replacing him. The change had no effect, for in the sixth four runs were secured off him on an error, base on balls, two singles and McMahon's long double to left field. Again in the seventh by safe hitting two runs were added to the total.

In the ninth Price and Bradley both hit to right field and looked safe but Budd gathered in both of the balls, making the prettiest catches of the game.

Dr. White Leaves

Doctor Harry White, who has been coaching the base ball team during the past month has been compelled to give up his work and leave for Chicago. He started Sunday morning, having his last practice with the team on Saturday afternoon.

Doc. White had expected to remain with the team until after the trip and was much disappointed at not being able to go so. On account of the early start of the schedule in the American League he was summoned last week to report for practice at once.

After the Johns Hopkins game on Saturday the Doctor expressed himself as highly pleased with the work of the team and felt assured that they had struck their true gait and would keep it up for the remainder of the year.

The work of Dr. White with the team has been of incalculable aid to them. He has not only taught them the points and details of the game but he has put into them a snap and vigor that a former University team never possessed. If the team does make a record for itself this year Dr. White may take much of the credit for it to himself.

George Washington vs. Fourth Presbyterians—Friday 4.30

The cancellation of the game scheduled for Saturday has left the team without any regular college game for the week. A game, however, has been arranged with the Fourth Presbyterian team of the Church League, to be played at University Field, on Friday afternoon at 4:30. The team from the Fourth is one of the strongest amateur clubs in the city and last year won the championship of the Church League. They have been strengthened this year and in the game with Georgetown were only defeated by one run. Our boys have now worked into good condition and a hard and fast game may be expected on Friday.

The Southern Trip

On Sunday night the base ball team will leave, over the Pennsylvania Railroad for its Southern games. The first stop will be made at Salem, where the team will play Roanoke. From there the boys journey over to Lexington, crossing bats with Washington and Lee on Tuesday afternoon. From Lexington the way leads to Charlottesville where the hardest game of the trip comes on Wednesday afternoon, with the University of Virginia. The return trip is made on Wednesday evening. Hard practice will be indulged during the present week under the direction of Captain Stevenson, for the team is determined to make a fine showing in the South.

All those who are desirous of accompanying the team are requested to send in their names by Friday to D. G. Sutton, Manager of the Base Ball Team—in order that necessary arrangements can be made.

FRESHMAN TEAM WINS

Defeats Eastern High School in the Opening Game

The freshman base ball team made its initial appearance on Friday afternoon on University Field in a game with the Washington Eastern High School. The game was won by the Freshmen by a score of 6 to 2.

The contest was close throughout and up to the sixth inning was a tie, the score being 2 to 2. In that inning the Freshmen went in with a determination to do something and by the time the third out was called had sent four scores across the plate. The entire game was marked by loose playing and errors abounded on both sides. This was doubtless due to the fact that neither side had had much practice and in spite of the poor playing it was evident that the Freshmen have the foundation for a good team and a few day hard practice will round them out in good shape. Their superiority to their opponents was clearly manifest at all points of the game.

On Friday the team will line up against the Business High School team and they are confident of adding another victory to their score. On account of the Varsity game the same afternoon the game will be called at an early hour so as to be over by four o'clock.

The line up of the teams was as follows:

Eastern—Oyster, p, 2b; Herring, 3b; Field, 1b; Capt. Linthicum, p, 2b; Dumont, ss; A. Richardson, cf; H. Richardson, lf; Talbot, c; Johnson, rf.

George Washington Freshmen—West, 1b; Frye, rf; Keeler, s; Carnes, 3b; Glennan, ss; Buell, lf; Salisbury, cf; Vance, 2b; Brooks, p, captain.

Errors—Eastern, 6; G. W. U., 8. Hits—Eastern, 2; G. W. U., 6. Struck out—By Oyster, 1; by Linthicum, 6; by Brooks, 8. Umpire—Mr. Carr.

New University Bulletins

Number one of Volume four of the University Bulletin was issued by the University during the latter part of March. This number of the bulletin consists of two parts, the first, the convocation and the second the catalogue number. Both are bound in buff cover printed in blue and contain for the first time a cut of the new University seal. The whole make up of the bulletins is the most attractive of any ever issued here.

Part one, the convocation number, contains a full account of the proceedings of the mid-winter convocation. Beginning with the presentation of the seal and flag by Mr. Fred. D. Owen, it contains, the description of the flag and seal; the address of Hon. Wayne MacVeagh; the address of Mr. Justice Brewer, the orator of the day; the address of President Needham upon the reorganization of the University; list of the recipients of degrees; and finally, some extracts from the charter of the University. As a frontispiece is a reproduction in buff, blue and gold of the new University Flag.

Part two is the first catalogue number of the George Washington University and is of much interest. It gives first the new organization of the University as follows:

Department of Arts and Sciences.

a Division of Graduate Studies.

b Columbian College.

c Division of Architecture.

Department of Medicine.

a Faculty of Medicine.

b Faculty of Dentistry.

Departments of Law and Jurisprudence.

Department of Politics and Diplomacy.

In this organization the schools of Dentistry and Medicine are included under the general head, Department of Medicine. Under the law schools a new adjustment is made, the Department of Law and Jurisprudence and the Department of Politics and Diplomacy being established, the former embracing the undergraduate courses in municipal law and graduate courses in general law, the latter certain graduate courses in political science, and special attention being given to Diplomacy. The degrees conferred in the former department will be the Bachelor of Laws, Master of Laws, Master of Patent Law and Doctor of Jurisprudence, in the latter Master of Diplomacy and Doctor of Philosophy.

The catalogue then gives in detail the various requirements and courses in the University, members of the faculty, fees, attendance, lists of University organizations, the degrees conferred in 1904, and list of students. The list of students is contained in one part instead of being put in after the various departments as formerly. This adds greatly to the convenience and usefulness of the list.

The recapitalation shows a faculty numbering 166 members. The student body numbers 1,465, as compared to 1,408 for the preceding year. The increase is principally in the Columbian College, the other schools remaining about the same.

Canoe Club

At the meeting of the G. W. U. Canoe Club last Thursday night, April 6, 1905, the committee appointed to select a camp site for the summer reported that they had picked out a place on Broadwater, which seemed to be in all respects an ideal place for a camp. Everyone who knows anything at all about this part of the river can appreciate the hard work of the committee in being able to obtain a site at this place. The river at this place, which is just above the dam, widens into a kind of lake. The many islands in the river, the high, wooded hills on the Virginia shore, and the wooded plot between the canal and the river make this a most desirable place. The committee also reported that canoeists would allowed the use of the canal this summer, so that those who do not care to come up on the cars may have the pleasure of paddling up. Applications for membership can be sent to the Commodore, Roy C. Heflebower, 915 N. H. Ave.; N. W. or to the Secretary, Joseph R. Curl, 416 5th St., N. W.

It will be good news to those who attended the last Canoe Club Dance to know that another one is to be given May 20th. The dance will be held at Mrs. Dyer, 1517 R. St., N. W. This date falls on Saturday and there is no excuse for any one's not being able to attend. Those who were present at the dance during Christmas week can assure all of a good time, and it is certain that this one will far surpass that. Everybody come, so that you can say you attended the best dance of the University year.

Theta Delta Chi

Theta Delta Chi gave another informal smoker at the frat house last Friday evening. A number of the fraternity's friends were present and a most delightful evening was spent, in the course of which refreshments were served.

Psi Omega

On last Wednesday's meeting of this chapter, the evening was enlivened and made most interesting by informal talks by Drs. Crane, chair of Extracting and Anaesthesia of Georgetown, and Dr. Benson of our faculty.

After the usual business of the next meeting an informal smoker will be given at the fraternity rooms.

Chi Omega

The Phi Alpha chapter of the Chi Omega fraternity entertained their patronesses, Mrs. Chas. Needham, Mrs. Chas. Monroe, and Mrs. Philip Dodge at their third informal luncheon. The luncheon was given in Room 11, at 12:45 and was attended by about thirty of Phi Alpha's friends and acquaintances.

The Washington City Alumnae Chapter of Chi Omega, in the name of the whole fraternity, and with the assistance of Phi Alpha Chapter planted a tree at Mt. Vernon on-the-Potomac, last week. The occasion was the celebration of "Founder's Day." Representatives from five chapters were present and took part in the ceremony which was similar to that of the Ivy ceremony of many colleges.

The Co-Eds

On Wednesday, April five, the regular monthly business meeting of the Woman's League was held in West Hall, at 6:30 P. M. In the absence of the Secretary, Miss McCleary, the chair appointed Miss Sherman to act in her stead. Roll call showed a good proportion of the membership present. After the reading and approval of the minutes of the last meeting, the Treasurer's report was read and approved. Miss Salisbury, the Chairman of the Committee on Girls' Athletics, gave a report of the work which that committee is carrying on systematically. Miss Sherman read letters from Mrs. Sterrett, Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Hodgkins and Mrs. Schoenfeld agreeing to serve in the capacity of patronesses to the League.

The motion was made and unanimously carried that the League should entertain at a social to be given in the College Library on the evening of Thursday, April thirteen, in honor of the Senior Girls of the College, to which the patronesses and the mothers of the girls were to be invited. The chair appointed the following committee, to have in charge of arrangements for the evening's entertainment: Misses McMahon, Raber, Stevens, Sherman, Doing. Invitations have been sent out to every girl in the University, and as delightful an evening is anticipated as has been spent at the preceding social gatherings of the League.

Alumni Association

The annual business meeting of the University Alumni Association was held on last Saturday evening in University Hall.

The election of officers for the coming year was held and resulted as follows:

PRESIDENT:

William Bruce King.

VICE-PRESIDENTS:

Dr. Geo. N. Acker.

Aldis P. Browne.

John Paul Earnest.

John Joy Edson.

Henry F. Woodward.

Meyer Cohen.

SECRETARY:

H. L. Hodgkins.

TREASURER:

John B. Larnier

The report of the Secretary, Dr. Hodgkins for the past year was read and showed a most encouraging condition. The most important work of the year, the report showed, was the address book of the alumni. This volume, which will be printed in June as a part of the University Bulletin will contain the names and addresses of 3,200 graduates. From the founding of the University in 1821 6,134 degrees have been conferred upon 4,808 persons. Of these 935 are dead and information lacking on about 700. Of these it is estimated only 400 are living.

The report further contained announcement of the organization of Alumni Associations throughout the country. Among them it is noted that the Puget Sound Alumni Association was organized more than a year ago at Seattle. This winter the Colorado Alumni Association was formed, with Lucius M. Cuthbert as president, and Clarence A. Brandenburg as secretary. A temporary organization was made in Salt Lake City during the winter and a permanent association has been completed with Dr. W. F. Beer as president and C. L. Olsen as secretary. In New York city the New York Alumni Association has organized with Fritz von Briesen as president and Oliver C. Carpenter as secretary. The Chicago Alumni, under the leadership of James Harlan, will soon effect an organization. A letter received this week says that through the efforts of Dr. James R. Rodgers an association will soon be formed in Los Angeles.

The report of the treasurer showed that eighty-six new members have come into the local association during the past year, the largest yearly increase ever made. The association now numbers about six hundred members, has a balance of $300 in cash and $2,400 invested.

President King then spoke of the efforts of the association toward the establishment of a building fund for the erection of an alumni hall with the new University Buildings. This hall is to be the social center of the new University, containing the dining hall, reading rooms, billiard rooms and halls for social and club meetings. It will thus serve also as a club house for the alumni. They are all to be invited to become members of the club, with all the advantages of such membership. Membership may be obtained upon payment of annual dues of $7.50, entitling the member to all privileges of the public halls and right of using private chambers and dining room service upon payment of moderate charges. Every alumnus contributing $100 or more to the building fund shall be made a life member without further payments.

Toward the amount pledged in the resolutions adopted last year, President King announced that considerable progress had been made and large contributions pledged payable in yearly installments. By the end of the present year it is the expectation of the association that $15,000 will be on hand.

Some amendments to the constitution were adopted, relating to the striking out of the word "Columbian" and inserting in its stead "George Washington," wherever it occurred in the constitution.

President Needham, Professor Earnest and Professor Holcombe, of the Law School, were all heartily received and gave further information upon the condition of the University and the plans of the alumni for its support.

The attendance was large and very enthusiastic. After the regular business and the addresses of the evening a luncheon was served in West Hall and a reception held by the officers of the association.

Examination tickets may be obtained by students who have completed the payment of fees upon application to the office of the assistant treasurer. No student will be permitted to take a final examination who is in arrears.

The preliminaries for the last intersociety debate between the Columbian and Needham societies will be held in the Needham Society on Friday evening.

The question, the same as that for the intersociety is,

"Resolved, That it is detrimental to the best interests of the United States to hold the Philippines."

The following gentlemen are eligible for the preliminaries and will contest on Friday evening, the first three taking the affirmative, the last three the negative: Messrs. Crane, Smith, Kelly, Christian, Schommer and Dobbins.

The subject for debate on Friday evening in the Columbian Society is as follows:

"Resolved, That the Federal Government should regulate the Insurance Companies of the United States."

Messrs. Jackson Morris, J. W. Barrett and C. B. Melby will defend the affirmative and Messrs. I. S. Pepper, E. C. Prince and M. S. Ross the negative.

Members of the Canoe Club are requested to take note of the special meeting called for Thursday evening, April 20th, at 9:00 P. M. in the Medical School, Room 21. Information in regard to the summer camp and the coming dance will be given out at this meeting.

University Congress

Speaker Shelton called the house to order last Saturday evening for the discussion of a resolution favoring the abolition of the grand jury in the District of Columbia and urging that in civil cases the concurrence of nine jurors constitute a verdict.

Mr. Merrit, of Arkansas, opened in favor of the resolution. He censured the grand jury system as being cumbersome and expensive, anathematizing it as a Star Chamber. The speaker cited influences which could be brought to bear on a body which is responsible to no one.

For the second part of the resolution, Mr. Merrit called attention to the states which had codified the idea into law. He urged economy of the time for courts and cited instances where the idea would greatly aid the administration of justice.

Mr. Merrit was followed by Mr. Nixon, of New Hampshire, in by far the ablest speech the latter has presented to the Congress; a speech which stands among the best delivered before the Congress this session.

Mr. Nixon argued that the present system afforded security to the reputation of innocent men, that one man, and that man a politician with an eye to re-election, could be more easily influenced than twenty-three. He called attention to the fact that this body can always act independently of the prosecuting attorney, thereby serving as a check on the latter. The gentleman's able argument was deservedly well received.

In the open discussion which followed Mr. Kennedy, of Pennsylvania, Mr. Pepper, of Iowa, Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee, Mr. Riddell, of Washington, Mr. Rickard, of Hawaii, and Mr. Barrett of the District of Columbia, took part.

Mr. McNamee, of South Dakota, in closing for the opposition, made the telling point that friends of the bill which involved the administration of justice only weakened their cause by arguing its inexpensiveness. Among other rebuttal arguments he contended that the secrecy of the grand jury's deliberations, which had been attacked, was one of the greatest safe-guards to reputation which the system afforded.

Mr. Moore, of Tennessee, concluding the debate argued that the openness of proceedings conducted by a prosecuting attorney would be less likely to leave a taint on the reputation of a suspected person than the cloaked proceedings of the grand jury room and offer less opportunity for corruption than is afforded by the secrecy of grand jury proceedings. The gentleman clinched the able argument of his colleague on the latter part of the resolution by naming several States whose laws embody its idea.

Friends of the resolution called upon the chair to divide it in placing it upon its final passage. Both sections were lost.

Next Saturday evening the following resolution will be put upon its final passage:

"Be it resolved by University Congress in regular session assembled that the committee on interstate and foreign commerce be instructed to prepare and present to the Congress a bill which shall provide for federal control over the formation and operation of corporations engaged in interstate commerce. The resolution will be in charge of Mr. Farley, of Tennessee and Mr. Barrett, of the District of Columbia. Mr. Riddell, of Washington and Mr. Cohen, of Wisconsin will lead the opposition to the measure.

Arguments in favor of the Bill.

- I The power to regulate interstate commerce is delegated to the Federal Government
 - a The interstate commerce of the country is carried on in corporate form.
 - II. Public policy demands it.
 - a Present state system amounts to anarchy.
 - b States cannot control corporations engaged in interstate commerce.
 - c The present national legislation is inadequate.
 - III. Control should be either by a compulsory national incorporation law or a federal license or franchise.
 - a A national government can authorize national incorporation to produce within the States.
 - b The objection to a national incorporation law cannot be urged against the federal franchise.
- This is
1. Legal.
 2. Practical.
 3. Preferable.

Arguments against the Bill.

- I. The bill contemplated by this resolution would be unconstitutional.

- a "Control" is stronger than "regulation."
- b The committee might consider itself entitled to report a bill providing for federal creations of corporations.
- II. Such a bill would deprive the states of their police powers in this direction.
- III. The bill would be too broad in scope.

Virginia Debate

The first preliminaries for the selection of a team to represent the George Washington University in the next debate with the University of Virginia, which is to take place on December 1, 1905, will occur Tuesday, April 25. All students of the University who are candidates for a degree are eligible to compete.

The proposition submitted by Virginia this year is the following:

"Resolved, That the United States Government should exercise control over the formation and operation of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce."

Students entering the preliminary contests may defend either side of this proposition and will be allowed eight minutes to do so. From among those entering the preliminary contest, the judges will select not less than six nor more than nine persons to compete in the final preliminary debate, which will take place on October 5th. Those students who qualify for the final preliminary debate are required to maintain in that debate the side opposite to that defended in the first preliminaries.

Place and judges will be announced hereafter. Those students who contemplate entering the first preliminaries are requested to give their names as soon as possible to Prof. C. W. A. Veditz.

Inter-Society Debate

On Friday evening April 28th the third and final inter-society debate for the present year will be held by the Needham and Columbian Societies in University Hall.

The question for the debate is

"Resolved, That it is detrimental to the best interests of the United States to hold the Philippines."

The team for the Columbian Society was chosen on last Friday evening and consists of Messrs. Pepper, McLean and Stern. The Needhamites chose their team at the next meeting of the society from among the following candidates, Messrs. Crane, Smith, Kelly, Christian, Schommer, and Dobbins.

The Columbian team will have the negative and the Needham the affirmative. The judges have not yet been selected.

This debate is sure to be closely contested for the Columbian Society won the first contest and the Needham the second and the series depends upon this final contest.

Discuss the effect of the permanent repeal of the charter of a municipal corporation in the relation to the rights of creditors, and contracts entered into by it prior to dissolution.

Sundry convivial spirits in the schools of Law, Jurisprudence and Diplomacy, loose of purse, light of heart, have formed an organization for a purpose unknown to outsiders. Eighteen such youths are the charter members many more have since been admitted into the confraternity—the "Tight Wads." Pleading misnomer in abatement of the extreme rigor of business they have succeeded in obtaining a club room in a down-town café; so every Friday evening the room with its steins and tapestried grapes is temporarily theirs.

At the last meeting night time enough was found "between" to adopt a pin, the design of Furbershaw, '06. A silver purse, enameled yellow except at the top, and supporting the device,

"T. W. C.
G. W. U.
Shimoh."

in blue, is the official badge of the club. At the regular meeting next Friday evening this ambitious body, which even dreams of fraternal organization, will announce its acceptance of the bids made for constructing the sign of the Tight Wads.

Chess Club

On Friday night, April 8, the Columbia Chess Club met as usual. After the completion of the routine business the club received and accepted with great regret the resignation from office of the Knight, Mr. Bennett, whose early departure from the city renders him unable to discharge to somewhat laborous duties for his office. Mr. Stivers was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. The club continued the regular games of the annual tournament.

The standing of the members at present is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Bennett	2	0	100
Solyom	3	2	60
Moore	2	2	50
Veerhoff	1	1	50
Miss Barbour	0	1	0
Gates	0	2	0

Dramatics at Virginia

An unusual amount of interest is being manifested in the annual Easter play at the University of Virginia. The Arcadians will present on April 28 and 29, "The King of Kathan." This is an original comic opera composed by students of Columbia University and brilliantly performed last month in the Carnegie Lyceum, New York, by King's Crown, the Columbia dramatic organization, under the direction of Mr. Frank Lea Short. Mr. Short is now engaged in training the all male cast and chorus at Charlottesville, where Columbia's play is to be reproduced.

At the Theatres

COLUMBIA—George Primrose and his company of Minstrels.

NATIONAL—Edna May in "The School Girl."

CHASES—Mlle. Carlotta and Polite Vaudeville.

LAFAYETTE—The Princess Chic.
